

Sri Lanka Standard Classification of Occupations, 2011

The Sri Lanka Standard Classification of Occupations, 2011 (SLSCO-11) is prepared based on the updated International Standard Classification of Occupations, 2008 (ISCO-08). This ISCO-08 structure, proposed by the International Labour Organization (ILO) to be adopted as an international statistical standard and to be designated as the International Standard Classification of Occupations, 2008 (ISCO-08),. This ISCO-08 was the fourth iteration, following ISCO-58, ISCO-66 and ISCO-88.

The main purposes and used of ISCO are to provide:

- ☐ a basis for the international reporting, comparison and exchange of statistical and administrative data about occupations;
- ☐ a model for the development of national and regional classifications of occupations; and
- ☐ a system that can be used directly in Sri Lanka that have no developed own national classification.

In collecting and processing statistics classified by occupation should ensure that data can be converted to the ISCO system, to facilitate the international use and comparison of occupational information.

In the ISCO-08 occupational classification system of major, sub-major, minor and unit groups' resolution endorsed by the experts in Labour Statistics design and construction based on two main concepts: the concept of the kind of work performed or job, and the concept of skill. A job is defined in ISCO-08 as 'a set of tasks and duties performed, or meant to be performed, by one person, including for an employer or in self employment'. An occupation is defined as a 'set of jobs whose main tasks and duties are characterized by a high degree of similarity'. A person may be associated with an occupation through the main job currently held, a second job or a previously held.

In the ISCO-08 each unit group is made up of several 'occupation' that has a high degree of similarity in terms of skill level and skill specialization. Unit groups are in turn arranged into minor groups and minor groups into major groups, based on the concept of skill level and on successively broader of the concept of skill specialization. The skill specialization is considered in term of four concepts: the field of knowledge required, the tools and machinery used, the materials worked on or with, and the kinds of goods and services produced. The skill level is defined as a function of the complexity in and range of tasks and duties to be performed in an occupation at four levels. This concept was applying mainly at the top (major group) level of the classification.

In the SLSCO-11 the overall system of major groups, sub-major groups, minor groups and unit groups have been same as the ISCO-08. The 10 major groups at the top level of the SLSCO-11 are the same as in ISCO-08. Few sub-major, minor and unit groups are inserted specially according to the agriculture sector occupations and another few names of the occupation groups have been changed slightly, so as to more clearly indicate their contents. The SLSCO-11 is designed so that occupations are arranged into 466 unit groups at the most detailed level of the classification hierarchy. It is intended that all jobs in Sri Lanka can be assigned to one (and only one) of these unit groups.

Looking at the hierarchical structure of SLSCO-11 from the top down, each of the ten major groups is made up of two or more sub-major groups, which in turn are made up of one or more minor groups. Each major group is denoted by a 1-digit code. Each Sub-major group is denoted by a 2-digit code, comprising the major group code plus one digit. In the same way minor groups are denoted by 3-digit codes and unit groups by 4-digit codes comprising the higher level code plus one digit in each case. The overall system of SLSCO-11 consists of 43 sub-major groups, 137 minor groups and 466 unit groups. Detailed occupations in the SLSCO-11 with similar job duties, and in some cases skills, education, and/or training, are grouped together. Each worker is classified into only one of the 466 detailed occupations based on the tasks he or she performs.
